01:01:38 Sandra Yecker: A thought: "Why do we continue to engage in low profit agribusiness activities? Legacy, possibly, etc? Similar to the shore, being near the land and being raised on it, becomes ingrained perhaps and validates folks from both a personal and generational perspective (?). The land, the sea when it's in front of us and we also know what to do with it, stewardship comes to the forefront (at least for me) and would quite feel right/ complete to not do something with it. Validates many who continue to do so in a very integral way. Just a thought. Appreciate this forum to share.
