AVIAN FLU OUTBREAK RAPID RESPONSE

AgriSafe aims to maintain a culture of readiness to respond to the needs in the ag community. Here are the Avian Influenza resources we created/updated:

- A Bird's Eye View of Avian Influenza (webinar)
- Animal Depopulation Resiliency Check-in Tool (webinar)
- Avian Influenza & Farmers' Mental Health (fact sheet)
- Avian Influenza: Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) Guidelines (fact sheet)

We know this outbreak of HPAI is not over and continue to maintain vigilance as this virus and its impact on agriculture evolves.

Participant Reflections

"This was a fantastic introduction to firearms safety in situations of potential suicide and something that needs to be talked about much more. I really appreciated the focus on a neutral attitude toward firearms." - CALM training participant

"This was next-level chain saw training. The slides were excellent, easy to read, and the content was great. I liked putting the injuries and the medical costs into perspective. The pictures and illustrations were up-to-date [technology]" - OSHA Chainsaw Safety Training Participant

"The Nurse Scholar Program has opened up a whole network of possibilities to be able to help others. I am a small town ND girl and Ag has impacted my life in so many different ways." - Tara Maus, Nurse Scholar Participant

"I applaud AgriSafe for beginning a diversity farming series. Hannah was wonderful to share her very personal experiences." - DEIA webinar series participant

"I live and grew up in a rural/farming area but didn't grow up on an actual farm and so much of the initial, background, information was new to me. While I understand poverty, the challenges of accessing care, the stigma, etc., I didn't understand the specific issues facing farmers and this gave me that knowledge." - FarmResponse participant
